To Whom It May Concern,

I am pleased to provide this reference for Charles Thomason II, who has served as a security officer at the Registrar of Voters. Throughout his tenure with us, he consistently demonstrated a level of professionalism, reliability, and integrity that set him apart.

Charles approached his responsibilities with seriousness and dedication. He maintained a strong command of security protocols, responded calmly and effectively to incidents, and consistently upheld the safety standards of our organization. His attention to detail—whether monitoring access points, conducting patrols, or documenting activity—was exemplary.

What truly distinguishes Charles is his character. He is respectful, courteous, and composed in all interactions, whether dealing with staff, visitors, or challenging situations. His conduct has always reflected sound judgment, discretion, and a commitment to doing what is right. Colleagues frequently commented on his positive attitude and his willingness to assist whenever needed.

In terms of performance, Charles exceeded expectations. He demonstrated strong situational awareness, communicated clearly, and handled high-pressure moments with professionalism. His presence contributed significantly to maintaining a safe and secure environment, and he earned the trust of both management and team members.

I have full confidence in Charles' abilities and work ethic. He would be an asset to any organization seeking a dependable, disciplined, and principled security professional. I recommend him without reservation.

If you require any additional information, I would be glad to provide it.

Sincerely,

Andrea Blackmon
